

key features

- Instant Notification
- Certainty that CV has been received
- Fully hosted

With Weblinks you will know when a client has downloaded a CV that you have sent to them. As soon as the CV has been downloaded the consultant that sent it will receive an email with details.

Get real-time notifications when a client opens a CV

Traditionally when sending a CV to a client you attach it to an email, send it and hope that the client opens it. If you want to know your client has received the email you can add a read receipt but they are not always reliable and you still don't know if they have opened the attached CV.

The GRIP weblinks module takes away that uncertainty by sending the consultant an email the moment that the Client downloads the CV. This means that you can be certain that they have received the email and have an interest in the CVs, providing you with valuable knowledge for any follow-up call.

Weblinks's advantages include:

- Certainty: Consultants will know that a client has both received the email and has shown an interest in the CVs that you have sent.
- Traceability: A record will be kept in GRIP's activity log showing when the client downloaded the CV. Useful for follow-up calls.
- Fully hosted: Weblinks is available as a fully hosted service where 2LS support and manage the service for you.
